Dancers from The Atlanta Ballet perform 'The Still Point.' The company will appear on the Avila College campus on March 23-25.

Atlanta Ballet to Appear March 22, 23, and 24

By Mary Clark

The Atlanta Ballet will be appearing here at Avila March 22, 23, and 24. The activities will include, a lecture/demonstration entitled "A History of Dance" arch 22, at 8:00 p.m., a master class for dancers March 24, at 10:00 a.m., and two different performances. The first performance will be held Friday, March 23 at 8:00 p.m. This performance, traditional in nature, consists of "Sherzo" and "Luminesque" and will be presented to display classic ballet. Following will be the blend of "Grand Pas de Deux" from the Nutcracker and "The Still Point" which will give it a perfect balance. The second performance will be Saturday March 24, at 8:00 p.m. This will consist of "Ras de Quatre" followed by "Trio and Catherine," choreographed by Tom Pazez, and will close with "Pas de Dix," choreographed by George Balanchene.

The Atlanta Ballet Touring Assemble is an extension of the oldest ballet company in the United States. The company was established in 1929 and became the State Ballet Company of Georgia in 1973. The ten member company offers classical and contemporary works. Versatility of the Touring Ensemble will be seen in each performance. This troupe is presented by Avila College and the Avila Student Union Board with financial assistance from the Missouri Arts Council and National Endowment for the Arts through the Dance Touring Program.

Reservations are now being taken for both performances at Goppert Theatre box office, phone 942-8408, or tickets can be obtained directly from Marian Centre. Avila students are admitted free with I.D. Faculty and staff can receive one free ticket and may purchase additional tickets at a discount price of three dollars each. All events are held in Goppert Theatre, all seats are reserved.

The feature pieces will be performed in their entirety for the enjoyment of all to see.

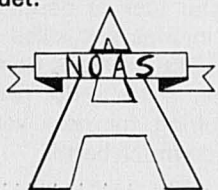

NOAS To Sponsor Banquet

On Saturday, March 31, 1979, there will be a Spring Banquet for nursing students and faculty. Freshmen, sophomores, juniors and senior nursing majors are invited. Dates or guests may attend.

The Banquet will be at 7:00 p.m. in Upper Marion dining room. This semi-formal dinner is sponsored by the Nursing Organization of Avila Students (NOAS). A special thanks to the Student Activity Fee Board for subsidizing a special and to help lower the cost per ticket. The cost is $2.10 for resident students and $3.50 for non-resident students, faculty, and non-resident guests.

Please purchase tickets between March 12 and March 23 at the Student Life Office in Upper Marion. Look forward to seeing you at the Banquet.

SPRING ELECTIONS APPROACH

Spring elections are rapidly approaching and students planning on running for elective office are encouraged to complete the necessary preparations as soon as possible.

There are 25 positions open for election. The Student Government Association will have the Chairperson, Secretary, and Treasurer, as well as 16 Senatorial positions, up for grabs. Student Union Board will elect a Chairperson, Vice-chairperson, and a Secretary/Treasurer and the Student Activity Fee Board will be presented with three positions at large.

Any student is eligible to run for any office. The qualifications are few: students must be members in good standing with the Avila student body and must maintain a minimum GPA of 2.00. In addition, the Chairperson of SGA must have been a student for one year previous to his/her election and be a full-time student or a parttime student from a department which has 50% or more part-time majors.

Petitions must be filed with the office of Student Life by March 14. This date has been changed from the original March 2 to allow for more participation. Elections will be held March 21 and 22, with booths set up in both O'Reilly and Marian Centre from 9:00 a.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Volunteers are needed to staff the booths. Anyone not running for an office is asked to volunteer to serve for an hour or two sometime during the process. For further information on volunteering to staff the booths, or to run for office, contact the Student Life Office in Marian Centre.

Resident Director Dave McKellips battles Chemistry instructor Jim Anderegg for a rebound in the First Annual Faculty-Staff Basketball game held Tuesday, February 20 at St. Thomas More. Looking on are Bob Powell and Pete Tumminia. The Staff won the abbreviated game, 20-19. The Faculty have requested a rematch, but no response has yet been issued from the Staff.

Clarence Kelley Truman Lecturer

"Violence in America" will be the topic of the lecture to be delivered April 2 by Clarence Kelley, the 1979 Harry S. Truman Lecturer. Kelley, formerly Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and Police Chief of Kansas City, Missouri, will speak at 8:00 p.m. in Goppert Theatre. Following the lecture, a reception, sponsored by the Student Union Board, will be held in Marian Centre.

The Truman Lecture Series was begun in 1971 under authorization by the late President Harry S. Truman. Its aim is to bring to the campus distinguished guests who can speak with authority on subjects to national significance. Past speakers include columnist William F. Buckley and NBC News commentator Irving R. Levine.

Kelley is currently the Executive Director of a Diversified Management Research and Investigative firm. Admission to the program is free, but tickets should be picked up in advance at the Information Booth in Marian Centre. The event is sponsored by Avila College and the Avila College Student Union Board.

Date for Fieldhouse Uncertain

By Denise Papin

Groundbreaking for the proposed fieldhouse will take place — but when?

Observant people might have noticed preparations going on at the site of the fieldhouse. Ground has been leveled; there has been drilling for bedrock.

This has led to speculation about the date of groundbreaking.

There have been many guesses, but no definite answers. None, that is, until Sister Olive Louise was asked about it.

When told the students were concerned about the groundbreaking date, Sister said:

"I'm very interested to hear that, because I've been wondering what the students are going to do."

"The fieldhouse project is something we all — that includes students, faculty, and staff are a part of," Sister explained. "(Getting the money for it is up to all of us.)"

Sister explained that there have been many people working hard to raise the funds in order to match the $500,000 grant by August 15. She has sent letters to alumni and surrounding residents asking for help in raising the money. A letter will also appear in the Kansas City Star, explaining the situation and asking for contributions.

But help in raising the funds can come from closer to home: all of us here at Avila.

"We won't break the ground until we have the money in hand," Sister Olive Louise stated. "The latest possible groundbreaking would be in mid-September."

"The earliest? That is up to us."

New Grading Policy

By Denise Papin

Two major changes in grading policy were voted into effect at the Faculty-Staff meeting Feb. 5.

The changes will affect grading and withdrawals from classes.

The change in grading, by a majority vote of the faculty, replaces NC with F. In the past, if a student earned a rating of NC, or No Credit, it was not computed into the student's Grade Point Average. When the new policy goes into effect, however, any student earning an F will have a 0 figured into his/her GPA.

"This method defines the student's standing better," Dr. Jim Anderegg said. "It's hard to assess GPA with NC ratings."

Anderegg feels that the new policy will clarify the reasons for the raise in GPA at Avila, begun in the academic year of 1974-75. That was the year the NC rating was introduced into the grading policy. In the four years since, GPA has risen about one point-averaging 3.2, in comparison to the previous four years, in which GPAs averaged 2.6.

"The F rating is not meant necessarily as a failure for the student," Anderegg explains, "but rather, it tells the student that he or she may not have an aptitude in that area."

The reasons listed by the faculty for the change to F rating are:

1. It clarifies for the student his/her standing.

2. The GPA is more realistic for going on to advanced studies. (For transfer credit, the NC rating would be translated to a 0, and the students GPA recomputed.)

3. Faculty members may be more responsible in administering D's and F's.

While there has been no definite decision made concerning when the new grading will take effect, next September, according to Sr. Anna Schlett, is when it will probably begin.

The other major change in policy is that students will be able to withdraw from a class only up to the 10th week of class.

"This would force the student to be more responsible and thoughtful about the classes they are taking, and to see things through to completion," Anderegg relates. "It commits students to stay with their learning responsibilities. We (the faculty) feel that students should learn to deal with that responsibility."

"Also, with the new policy for withdrawals, faculty members are put in the position to make legitimate evaluations by mid-semester," Anderegg explains. "The committee felt the need for an honest written assessment of the student's progress, instead of just mid-term grades."

"As an example, there are some classes in which the term paper is the whole class; it is the only evaluation of the students' progress all semester. But the student should know how he or she is doing in the class before the end of the semester."

The new policies are Avila's part in the academic trend toward stricter measures in grading.

In checking with other schools in the area, it was found that while there were many who had been using the equivalent of the NC rating, most have changed back to the F rating.

"As academicians," Anderegg says, "we should always be interested in seeing what changes can be made for the better."

BUG STRIKES AVILA!

By Connie Johnston

Pssst! Who's got it?

He's got it. She's got it. They've got it. Just about everyone has it.

Has what? The FLU. Yes, flu has struck Avila College.

The crew and cast of Paint Your Wagon struggled with it. It runs thick and fast in the dorms where close quarters are a hazard at this time of year. Is there no relief? The flu has run around campus ever since second semester has started, striking even the most healthy of individuals. The nurse is earning her pay as students flock to her office for some kind of relief!

What does the nurse think about this? "About three years ago, we had a flu epidemic worse than this. I have put several to bed. I would diagnose this as an upper respiratory flu. It really hit the dorm students real bad."

And the flu has struck not just Avila College, but the entire Kansas City area. However, with the coming of spring, everyone will be able to get out and move around and not stay together in the dorms which is one of the major causes of flu.

So, to those of our readers who are well, I hope you don't get sick! Good luck!

8-10 Record

The Avila women closed out their 1978-1979 cage season with a 53-47 win over Mid-America with Kelley McQuillan and Selita Mitchell leading the way. McQuillan, the team's leading scorer for the season, netted 23 pts. while Mitchell grabbed 22 rebounds and added 15 pts. to the Avila cause.

COMMUNICATIONS

Dear Editor;

Would you please print this letter in your campus paper. I am 29 years old, very lonely and in prison. Despite all of this I still consider myself to possess a very creative mind, with values and attitudes that correspond with reality.

I would like to communicate with those (regardless of race) who realize that the greatest difference wedged between our situations and our lonely circumstances... is as large as we allow it to be. Though I may be in a physical prison, my personal struggles are no less decisive, nor my needs any less intense.

So, I would like those of you, who feel you can relate with a desperate man, that took a desperate position... to please, please write me.

Sincerely,
James D. Phillips

Dear Editor:

I'm writing to tell you about the Dance Marathon at Baker University. It is being sponsored by Alpha Chi Omega and Delta Delta Delta sororities. The money raised will go to Children's Leukemia and Cystic Fibrosis funds.

It is March 2 from 8 p.m. to 8 a.m. in the Lower Gym of the Mabee Memorial Gymnasium at Baker. Johnny Rowlands of KBEQ radio station in Kansas City will be deejaying part of it.

Anyone is welcome to participate. The entrance fee is $2.50 per couple and $1.50 per single. Pledge sheets are available. If a participant has a pledge sheet the entrance fee is lowered to 50¢ if they have over $5.00 pledged per hour. Free food is given to participants and trophies will be awarded in various categories.

For more information or pledge sheets contact Lynn Thomas at (913) 594-6415 or Debbie Dayles at 594-6528.

Dean Cupkie Committed to Job

By Elizabeth Cress-Sweet

Dean Lynn F. Cupkie (the F is for Fredrick) is a bit tall (6'3"), is admittedly a bit overweight (238), and is definitely committed to his office and to the responsibilities inherent in being Dean of Students.

His is a small but comfortable office. Perhaps too small for such a large man with so large a commitment. There are pictures proudly displayed of his wife, Donna Lee (a junior high teacher) and their two children; Todd, age 10 and Michelle, age 6. The desk seems cluttered but well used and purposeful.

Exactly what is the Dean of Students? What are the differences between the Academic Dean and the Dean of Students?

"Well, we have similar administrative functions, but the major differences are in the areas of responsibility. Whereas Dean Scott has responsibility for the formal curriculum, faculty, continuing education, library, etc., my major responsibilities follow the student services and several auxiliary enterprises such as the housing program and the athletic program."

Student services?

"Admissions, financial aid, veterans, counseling, career ed., health services, college skills program, student life program, student activities program, food services, campus ministry and so on."

So your office is not under Dean Scott's office?

"No. I report directly to the Office of the President.

You're so diversified, how do you manage?

"Well, I don't think that this is so uncommon in smaller colleges. I think that people that tend to be successful and continue to work in smaller colleges are people that are, in a sense, considered generalists rather than specialists."

And to handle the diversification?

"I have a very fine staff. That helps."

Would it be your office that is in charge of something like facilities for the handicapped?

"There are a variety of people and offices involved. A few years ago we worked up a study on what it would take to get our college into compliance. We brought in Voc.-Rehab. and they worked with us on it and the studies indicate that when the college is fully in compliance it will be one of the more desirable campuses for the handicapped in the area."

That should be a plus for Avila. We know it can't happen overnight but the fact that you're working on it positively, is good. I would think future accessibility for everyone would be a selling point for Avila, not just for the handicapped but for the elderly who want to come back to college.

"We've indicated to Voc-Rehab that we are willing to work closely with them on this. Of course, getting the financing, the grants to do it is not always an easy matter."

When you look at large versus small, what is the attraction to come to a smaller college?

"I think students are looking for a quality education with meaningful, interpersonal relationships. Smaller colleges handle that better, I think."

Did you start out as an administrator? What kind of degrees do you have?

"My major was counseling and my minor was psychology. My BA and MS are from St. Cloud University in Minnesota and I am a candidate for a Ph.D. from UMKC."

How did you come to Avila? Are you from the Midwest?

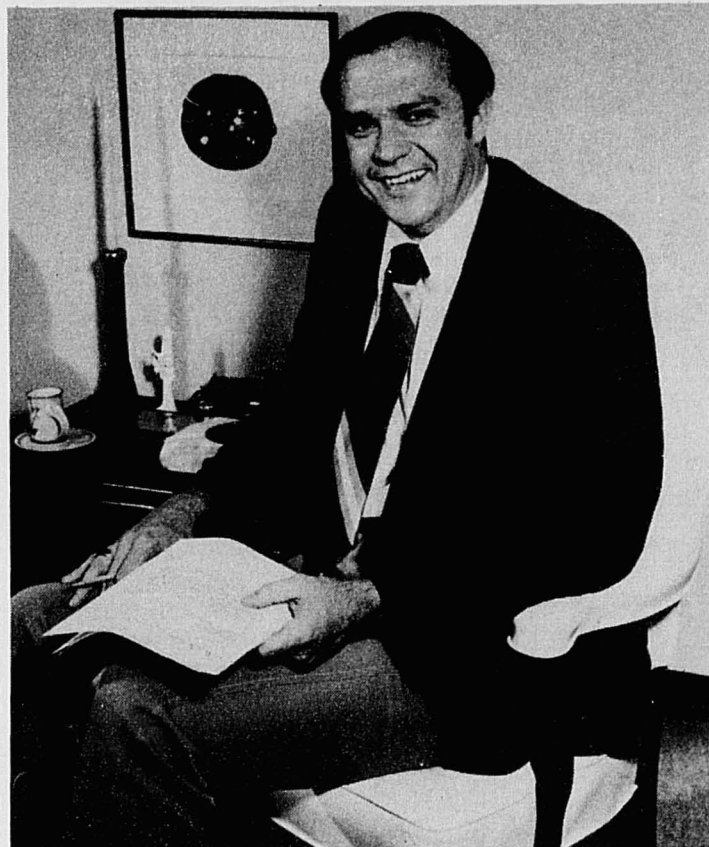

"I'm from St. Paul, Minnesota. I was on a leave of absence from St. Cloud University to finish up my doctorate. I was in the process of writing my dissertation when I got called into my Dean's office at UMKC one day and they asked me if I wanted to go out to Avila College and do some part-time work. And I said 'well, where is Avila College?' They told me and I drove out for an interview with Dean Scott and Sister Marie Georgette and they hired me part-time to do some counseling and some teaching. Two weeks later I was full time as Director of the Counseling Center and Co-ordinator of the Psychology Department. One year later, I became Dean of Students and head of the Psychology Department and then about two years after that, just Dean."

What a story! That's great. But how did you manage to keep a department separate from the Dean's office. Wouldn't that be conflicting?

"Oh no. When I came there were only about six or eight psychology courses in the catalogue, if I remember right, and they were only teaching three or four. The first year I was here, we built it into a minor and a couple of years after that, I helped form it into a major."

Do you find Avila satisfying?

"Well, Avila has probably given me more opportunity to do more things than a larger university would have. Just look at the many areas we're into. I mean, when I came here, a lot of those services didn't even exist or weren't well developed and I've had the opportunity to participate with other people in building and bringing along those programs. So from that standpoint, Avila's given me a tremendous opportunity to learn and grow."

"I think we've come a long way in 5 or 6 years. Our division has a very short history. We're a very new part of the college. I would hope in the future that there would be a stronger integration of the intellectual and the affect. I would also hope that our student body continues to diversify, not only in terms of traditional and non-traditional needs but in terms of representation of minority and foreign students for example."

What do you think are the needs facing students today?

"The needs of the non-traditional student are profound in the area of academic advisement. I think that sound, academic guidance and support is needed. They need well developed, highly identifiable support services along with their formal education."

"I guess the thing that sometimes saddens me and I am not sure how to solve it, is that, particularly with some of the women, that somehow, after they're here for a year or two and they've gotten some kind of renewed self-confidence and they've found that they can compete and can be successful, they often find they don't have a place to demonstrate this new confidence. If only there was some place here at Avila where we could tie them into the system and organization so that they would have a chance to use that confidence. Or even if we could refer that enthusiasm to the community, that would help."

"For the traditional student, I think basically what they need to acquire, as I see it, is a positive and realistic conception of what their own abilities are. Not only in our little circle of higher education but in terms of the world at large. I think that they need to see the inner-relationship and structure of knowledge so that they can begin the process of forming some judgment on their own."

"I think students are looking for some kind of enduring commitments but I also see them as being skeptical. I think that they know that much is wrong with the world but they are hard put to articulate clearly exactly what those problems are. At least in the beginning."

What kind of an attitude do you think students should take out into the world with when they leave this fairly protective environment?

"I would say that one of the most important things to carry out would be an integration of self. An integration of the affect and the intellectual. Also I think I would like to see our people leave here with a well developed value system, a degree of optimism and an idealism tempered with reality."

"I think that if somebody calls me on the phone and says 'Hey, I'm looking for an Avila nurse, because I know when the going gets tough, they've got it', that means a lot. It means that they're wanted not only because they are well-trained and intellectual but that they have gotten it together as individuals."

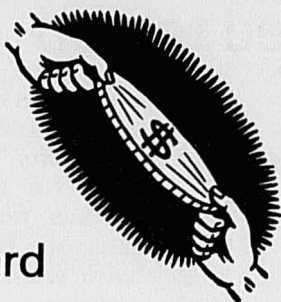

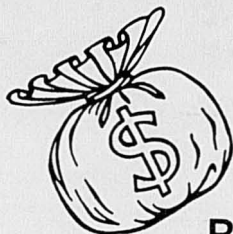

What do you think about for Avila's future?

"I think that Avila will continue to be a leader in the Kansas City community. And I think the faculty along with Dean Scott's leadership will continue to ascertain the needs of the Kansas City community and make the necessary curriculum changes to meet these needs, and continue the growth, the strength and the vitality in the institution."

Budgets Presented to Fee Board

Various clubs and organizations have submitted their requests to the Student Activity Fee Board in hopes of obtaining a share of the approximately $48,000 available through the Activity Fee.

The Board received these requests on Saturday, February 24 and heard presentations from people representing the various funds. The process will continue with an open hearing to be held today at 4:30 p.m. in the Barefoot Room in Marian Centre. Students are encouraged to attend this meeting and voice their opinion on how the funds should be spent. Another hearing is scheduled for March 14, with the time and location to be announced.

On Monday, March 19, the Student Activity Fee Board will meet in closed session to consider the budget and present a recommended budget to the Director of Student Life at that time. On Tuesday, March 20, this budget will be announced. Appeals will be due to the Student Life Office on March 27, so that the Board may meet and decide on these appeals at their April 2 meeting. The final step will be sending the final recommended budget to Dean of Student Lynn F. Cupkie for his approval.

Budget requests for 1979-1980 are:

Spring Brings Tennis

Candidates for the No. 1 tandem appear to be Robinson-Delecaris and Schrick-Novack.

Women: The women will also be without the services of their top singles player of last year, Dianne Manning. However, Geer seems to have come up with more than an ample replacement in Freshman Theresa Winas, the No. 1 singles woman at St. Teresa's Academy in Kansas City last year. She will join 5 veterans and 2 other newcomers on this spring's squad.

The returning letterwomen are Senior Nyla McCollough, Junior Sue Thomas and Sophomores Sara Cramer, Carol Vossbrink and Marianne Wehner. Freshmen Chris Ogile and Lori Roberts are the other new players.

Probable doubles pairings are Thomas-Winas, Cramer-McCollough and Vossbrink-Ogile.

The women open their season at William Jewell on March 15.

Fred Geer, Head Coach for both teams for the 2nd year, sees improvement over last year's squads. "We've finally got some depth. We've made some real fine additions and our returning players have been showing improvement. The spectators should get to see some good tennis," commented Geer. Here is a brief synopsis of each team:

Avila to Play Hoc-Soc

Avila Soccer Coach, Pete Tummina, has announced Avila will be participating in a 16-team indoor tournament on the weekend of March 3-4 at Meramac Community College in St. Louis.

The "indoor" version of soccer, also known as "hoc-soc" is a sort of hockey-soccer combination. The game is played in an enclosed area, the ball never leaves play. Each team is allowed to play four players plus a goal tender at a time, rather than the usual eleven men.

Some other entries in the tourney are NAIA National Champion, Quincy; National JUCO Champion, Florissant Valley; St. Louis University, SIU-Edwardsville; the University of Evansville and Kansas City rival Rockhurst.

NOON FILMS CHANGE TO MONDAY

By Connie Johnston

After spring break, the Wednesday noon movies will be changed to Monday. Why? The SUB films committee chairperson, Doug Helfrick, wants some of the other people on the committee to help in the running of the movies. Wednesday seems to be a bad time for all of the members to get together. So for all of you who like to watch the Wednesday noon movies, after spring break, they will become the Monday noon movies.

MEN: The men will play an 18-match schedule which opens March 19th at Central Missouri State in Warrensburg.

Returning from last season's 2-9 team are 4 of the top 6 singles men of 1978. Sophomores Karl Delecaris (No. 2), Clarence Robinson (No. 3), Larry Schrick (No. 4), and Senior Wally Betz (No. 5) will all return. However, No. 1 singles man, Mark Fudenberg, is gone. Fighting to inherit the No. 1 spot are Robinson, and newcomers Colin Novack and Keith Paton. Novack is a Junior Transfer and Paton is a Freshman.

Other new players include Freshman John Higgins from St. Louis and Sophomore Dave Combs, a transfer from Longview Community College.

The doubles situation is "up for grabs," according to Geer. However, leading Candidates for the No. 1 tandem appear to be Robinson-Delecaris and Schrick-Novack.

WOMEN: The women will also be without the services of their top singles player of last year, Dianne Manning. However, Geer seems to have come up with more than an ample replacement in Freshman Theresa Winas, the No. 1 singles woman at St. Teresa's Academy in Kansas City last year. She will join 5 veterans and 2 other newcomers on this spring's squad.

FAO ANNOUNCES SCHOLARSHIP DEADLINE

Applications for the Scholarship Sponsors Award for the 1979-80 academic school year are now available in the Student Financial Aid Office in lower Blasco. The deadline for submitting this scholarship application is March 15, 1979.

The Scholarship Sponsors Award for 1979-80 replaces the current Merit Scholarship. The purpose of the award is to honor currently enrolled students who have never received an academic scholarship from Avila College and have performed exceptionally high academically. Students eligible for this award must:

1. Be currently enrolled at Avila College.
2. Have completed at least 24 credit hours at Avila College.
3. Have a 3.4 cumulative grade point average from hours attained at Avila College.
4. Have no N.C.'s.

Awards for the Scholarship Sponsors Award range from $500 to half-tuition for the academic year. The Scholarship Sponsors Award is a one year scholarship. The student must re-apply each year for consideration. The criteria will be the same as the initial eligibility criteria. The student can apply for a maximum of three years or until a B.A. degree is attained (whichever comes first).

The funds for this award are generated from the Scholarship Sponsors, a donor group which assists academically and financially deserving students.
